

I am a fan of satellite radio - great concept, great service, great niche in already full market. They should be allowed to prosper and grow. It would be monopolistic to NOT allow them to compete on an equal footing with standard radio stations. Also, as I am paying for the service, it should be my choice alone as what I listen to, and that should not be regulated by anyone.